PRICE FIVE CENTS

WILL PRESENT FLAG; TO HOLD EVENT IN OCT.

Final plans for Thursday evening's presentation of a 34-starred flag to the Warner Hospital in observance of Flag Day were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Civil War Centennial Commission.

At the same time, further plans were discussed for observance in October of the centennial of Jeb Stuart's Confederate Cavalry raid into the county in October, 1862.

Rev. Fr. Joseph Kealy, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here, will give the invocation and Rev. Dr. Frederick K. Wentz, faculty member at the local Lutheran Theological Seminary, will give the benediction at Thursday evening's program to be held at the Warner Hospital at 6:45 o'clock. The program is scheduled for the flag staff on the lawn in front of the hospital. In case of inclement weather the program will be held in the new waiting room in the original hospital building.

SPECIAL MUSIC

E. Donald Scott, president of the county commissioners, will formerly present the flag to Walter B. Dillon, administrator of the hospital, as a memorial to all of the hospitals established here during the Battle of Gettysburg. The flag will be raised on the staff by Sons of Veterans Reserves during the playing of "To the Colors" by the Gettysburg High School Band. At the close of the ceremony a formal lowering of the colors will take place during the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the band. The program will conclude with the singing of "Taps" by a Gettysburg High School chorus.

Principal speaker will be Jacob M. Sheads, of the Gettysburg High School history department, who will tell of the various hospitals established here during and immediately after the Battle of Gettysburg. Paul Snyder and O. G. MacPherson will be the flag bearers. The color guard will be provided by the New Oxford SUV.

MRS. GIFFORD RESIGNS
Preliminary discussion on plans for the centennial of the October, 1862, raid, led to a decision to conduct the entire program at Cash-town in cooperation with the Cash-town Lions. A meeting with a Chambersburg Riding Club and other riding clubs in the area to secure "Confederate Cavalry" to appear for the "raid" as part of the observance will be set up by the chairman of the County Civil War Centennial Commission, W. Clayton Jester.

The resignation of Mrs. Roy W. Gifford as chairman of the standing pageant committee of the commission, while remaining a member of the committee, was accepted with "deep regret" and the commission voted an expression of appreciation to Mrs. Gifford for her work over the last two years in assuming full responsibility as director for all pageants put on by the group.

SCHMITZ SERVICES

Funeral services for Theodore H. Schmitz, 77, 132 Carlisle St., who died Sunday at the Warner Hospital, were held this morning from the Bender Funeral Home with a Requiem Mass at 10 o'clock in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church. The Rev. Fr. Joseph Kealy officiated. The pallbearers were Frank and Lee Schmitz, Charles Motter, Edward Butler, Alfred J. B. Ness and Leslie Stener.

Find No Trace Of Three Prisoners Who Fled From Alcatraz Island Prison

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The search went on today for three bank robbers who vanished from tide-swept Alcatraz Island prison in San Francisco Bay Tuesday after wriggling through cell wall vents tediously enlarged with stolen spoons.

Skillfully made dummies in their bunks prevented guards from discovering their absence for several hours.

Warden Olin Blackwell said he does not believe the three men, led by a convict with an IQ of 132, are alive if they tried to swim for it.

However, because of the thoroughness of the trio's planning to bust "The Rock," officials concede that the men could have made it ashore on a makeshift raft.

MAY BE IN CAVE

Nor do they discount the possibility that Frank Lee Morris, 35, the leader, and two brothers, John, 32, and Clarence Anglin, 31, are still on the island, lurking in

Cashtown Lions Buy Band Uniform

The Cashtown Lions Club meeting Tuesday evening at the Cash-town community hall voted a $35 donation to purchase a new uniform for the Gettysburg High School Senior Band.

Plans of the organization to go from their dinner to a site along the old Hartman Dam to work on construction of a picnic area for the club and community were rained out. The group will work on the park site at a later date.

President Clark Spence presided at the meeting with 34 members and one guest, Banks Benner, of the Fairfield Lions Club, present. June 26 at the community hall in Cashtown was set as the date for the next meeting.

Pro-Red Will Head Laos Coalition Regime When 2 Princes Leave For Europe

By PETER ARNETT
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Already sniping at "American warmongers," pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong will take temporary command of Laos' new coalition government late this month. Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, premier designate of the new government, said Tuesday he and right-wing leader Gen. Phoumi Nosavan will be in Europe at the same time. During their absence, he said, "the whole burden of state affairs will fall on Souphanouvong."

Phoumi, like Souphanouvong slated to become a deputy premier, will lead a Cabinet delegation to Switzerland June 24 or 25 to ratify the 14-nation Geneva agreement on Laos pledging the little Southeast Asian nation to neutrality in the cold war.

GOING TO WEDDING
Souvanna said he is going to France to attend the wedding of his daughter.

Just what powers Souphanouvong will be able to wield while running Laos was not clear. The bulk of the Cabinet posts are invested in neutralists, and the coalition agreement stipulates that all decisions related to the ministries of defense, interior and foreign affairs must have the unanimous agreement of the three faction leaders—Souvanna, Souphanouvong and Phoumi.

Souvanna, Souphanouvong's half brother and ally in precoalition maneuvering, welcomed the American pressure that forced the right-wing Vientiane regime to give way to the coalition. But Souphanouvong has shown no softening in his anti-American position.

The new "draft board" location will be in Room 245 on the second floor of the post office in a room vacated by the National Park Service when it moved to its new site in the Visitor Center building on the battlefield.

Local Board No. 1 (Adams County) started its existence in 1948 in the Weaver building on Lincoln Square. Later it was moved to the Plaza building and then in December, 1950, moved to the present quarters in the First National Bank building, from which it moves next Tuesday.

During World War II Adams County had two draft boards, one located here and the other at New Oxford.

The present employees of the board are Mrs. Dorothy P. Swisher, clerk, and Mrs. Priscilla S. Schaefer, assistant clerk. Richard C. Lighter, Buford Ave., is chairman of the board and Carl W. Kane, Biglerville R. D., and Robert F. Staub, McSherrystown, members. Atty. Richard A. Brown is the government appeal agent for the board.

ALC TO DISCUSS MEMBERSHIP IN WCC TODAY

"Against a backdrop of militant atheism, indifference to doctrine and man-centered preaching, the churches of today are facing problems that seriously disturb."

With this introductory observation, the Rev. Dr. Edward C. Fendt, president of the Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary, Columbus, O., began a series of addresses to the second annual convention of the Eastern District of the American Lutheran Church being held at Gettysburg College this week.

Before an assembly of 475 pastors and laymen, Dr. Fendt aimed the remarks of his first presentation to answer the question: "Whose Word Do We Proclaim?"

"The only word any church should proclaim," Dr. Fendt said, "is the living word of God centering in the incarnate Word, Jesus Christ, and having the written word in the Holy Scriptures as the norm of its proclamation."

FUND-RAISING STAND

The pastors and lay delegates, assembled on the college campus, represent the 85,000 members of this geographical district of the ALC. In Tuesday's business session the convention adopted a resolution which will have widespread implications throughout the church. The Eastern District has gone on record as strongly discouraging the raising of funds in congregations by methods other than by means of Christian stewardship.

The convention today will receive report of the general president of the church, Dr. Fredrick Schlotz. The report of Dr. Schlotz will be brought by Dr. William Larsen, Minneapolis, secretary of the ALC.

CONTROVERSIAL TOPIC

This afternoon's session will include discussion on a subject that is highly controversial among members of the American Lutheran Church. It concerns membership of the church in the World Council of Churches. The ALC now holds membership in the World Council, but according to the articles of union of the church, this matter will be decided at the national convention of the ALC being held in October in Milwaukee, Wis.

The annual banquet will be held this evening in the dining hall on the Gettysburg College campus. The featured speaker will be Albert H. Quie, Lutheran congressman from Minnesota.

President Says Coalition In Laos Very Encouraging

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told Soviet Premier Khrushchev today that the formation of a coalition government in Laos is very encouraging.

Kennedy replied to a message from Khrushchev in which the Soviet leader said the agreement on a coalition government could serve as a guide to the solution of other problems between East and West.

"The formation of this government of national unity under Prince Souvanna Phouma marks a milestone in the sustained efforts which have been put forward to ward this end, especially since our meeting in Vienna," Kennedy told Khrushchev.

TURN TO GENEVA

"It is equally important that we should now press forward, with our associates in the Geneva conference, to complete these arrangements and to work closely together in their execution. We must continue also to do our best to persuade all concerned in Laos

CIVIL SERVICE REJECTED FOR "QUICK CALL" STAFF HERE

The Adams County commissioners decided this morning that in the interest of "home rule" they could do without civil service for employees in the county's "quick call" system.

The move means in effect that the county and Gettysburg borough, plus any others with whom arrangements are made, will pay the full salaries of any quick call employees and of the county Civil Defense director without aid from federal funds.

But the commissioners also were told that there is no guarantee of federal matching funds for administrative Civil Defense workers after July 1.

APPROVE FOSTER HOME

Discussion by the commissioners at their meeting in the court house with Civil Defense Director William G. Weaver and Quick Call Committee President Raymond Menges showed the commissioners pleased with the way the Quick Call system has been operating, as well as the other Civil Defense activities in the county and not desirous of "getting into a situation where you have no control over your men because they are under civil service and have to have certain vacations and times off, and qualifications are made so high you can't get anyone to fill the post."

This morning was a good morning for the commissioners to comment on their view that the state and federal government sometimes makes "unreasonable" demands when it sets up qualifications. The commissioners approved a home for the care of two elderly people under the county's foster home care program for the aged.

Mrs. Earl A. Deily reporting on the proposed home, as investigator for the commissioners, noted that the family had expressed the desire to enlarge their home to become approved by the state as a home for elderly people. No such permit is needed if only two are kept in a home.

OPEN BIDS TODAY

Mrs. Deily said she had been "greatly optimistic" when the people told of their plans but became "greatly pessimistic" when she received from the state a copy of the requirements for such a home to receive a license. She also reported a home in the county which now has a license to care for the aged is considering "closing up" because of state regulations.

The commissioners opened bids this morning for radio communications to set up a "sheriff's network" to cover the sheriff's office and police in the county. One bid, from Motorola Communications and Electronics, Inc.,

JOHN D. LODGE NOT CANDIDATE FOR SENATE

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—John Davis Lodge, calling for an end to Republican factionalism in Connecticut, has decided against waging a primary fight for the U.S. Senate nomination.

Lodge former governor and ambassador to Spain under the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration, threw his support behind Rep. Horace Seely-Brown Jr., who received the party's endorsement at the state convention last week.

Seely-Brown, an eastern Connecticut apple grower, beat Lodge 476 to 149.

Under a state law, Lodge was entitled to challenge the convention's decision in a statewide primary because he had received at least 10 per cent of the convention vote.

"PARTY UNITY"

"Thoughtful consideration has confirmed my decision not to enter a primary for the Republican nomination," Lodge said Tuesday night.

"In light of the prolonged struggle at the recent state convention, I think it urgent, now that the delegates have made their decision, that factionalism and personal hopes be subordinated to party unity."

That was an apparent reference to the battle for the gubernatorial nomination. The convention went to a record eight ballots before nominating John Alop of Avon.

Alop, brother of writers Stewart and Joseph Alop, defeated former State Chairman Edwin H. May Jr. of Wethersfield 337-317.

Lodge is a brother of Henry Cabot Lodge, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

was received offering to install one 100-watt base station and four 50-watt mobile units for $4,980. The sheriff's radio network for police work is needed because federal laws will not permit police use of the "Quick Call" frequency after January, 1963.

In response to a request from the Theodore Burr Covered Bridge Society concerning plans for the reception of the Peepstowntown bridge from the state, the commissioners decided that a formal dedication program for the covered bridge will be held sometime between Sept. 22 and 30. The Theodore Burr Society is holding its annual tour of covered bridges at that time. The Peepstowntown bridge, located near Brown's Dam, was "saved" by county and township action when it was due for replacement by a concrete bridge. The state, co-operating in the plan for saving the old wooden covered bridges, is repairing the bridge and will turn it over to local authorities.

This afternoon the commissioners are visiting the Kohler's Mill bridge with an engineer preparatory to accepting that bridge on the part of the county.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — More

rain sluiced down on southeastern Pennsylvania today, raising the total fall to 3.33 inches since the drenching started Monday night.

All this was welcome to farmers and orchardists after a dry spell which left crop lands parched. It was misery for those who had to slosh around in it, and here and there it was blamed for some damage.

"YOU ARE"

You are a million happy dreams . . . rolled up into one . . . you are everything worthwhile . . . a dream second to none . . . you are the silver sunrise . . . the sunset's golden hue . . . your understanding paves the way . . . of each road I pursue . . . you are the fragrance of roses . . . that enchant the hours of June . . . and when I hear a love song . . . you are the tender tune . . . you are my reason for smiling . . . your faith keeps my faith ever strong . . . as long as you are beside me . . . I know I'll never go wrong . . . but if you should ever leave me . . . I'd be afraid, I confess . . . afraid to face each new tomorrow . . . for you are my true happiness.

Wedding

Miss Pamela Jean Stonesifer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Stonesifer, Littlestown R. 1, and Ronald Eugene Welty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Welty Sr., Taneytown R. 2, were united in marriage at 6:30 p.m. on Sunday in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Harney.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Glenn Finchbaugh, pastor of Redeemer's United Church of Christ, Littlestown, and pastor of the couple; assisted by the Rev. Charles E. Held, pastor of St. Paul's Church. Bouquets of spring flowers decorated the church.

The bride was attired in a white nylon, street-length dress, fashioned with a round regular neckline, white Chantilly lace bolero jacket with elbow-length sleeves and a full skirt over net. She wore white lace mitts and white shoes. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a white headband. She wore a corsage of white carnations with red rosebuds.

OFF TO NIAGARA

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clouser, 331 S. Queen St., Littlestown. As matron-of-honor, Mrs. Clouser wore a

A wedding reception followed the ceremony at 7:30 p.m. in the social hall of Redeemer's Church. Mrs. Samuel H. Higinbotham and Mrs. William M. Ebaugh served at the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Welty will go on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y., over July 4. They have gone to housekeeping in their newly furnished home in Harney.

DETROIT (AP) — Aziz Zarou has his life savings back today. They had gone for a ride on the fender of a car and fallen off into a downtown gutter.

Edward Kay, 19, found Zarou's savings—a stack of $100 U.S. savings bonds—and turned them over to police.

Zarou went to police headquarters with a list of serial numbers of 40 bonds. Police returned 41 bonds to him.

"Maybe I don't count so good," said Zarou who explained he had left the bonds on a car fender while he dug a coin for parking out of his pocket.

Antietam Re-enactment Of Bloodiest Battle, Pageant Planned For Md. Centennial

The Antietam-South Mountain Civil War Centennial Association is planning the "largest and most historic commemoration ever presented in the history of the United States starting August 31," according to reports from Hagerstown newspapers.

The Maryland state-established centennial association will re-enact the Battle of Antietam September 15 and 16 at 2:30 p.m. each day at "Bloody Lane" and terms the re-enactment "an authentic, realistic presentation of the bloodiest battle of the Civil War staged with thousands of re-activated troops, cannons and horses."

TO GIVE PAGEANT

August 31, September 1, 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, 9, 13, 14, 15 and 16, a spectacular pageant, "Hills of Glory," will be presented at the municipal stadium in Hagerstown with a cast of more than 1,000 on a stage 400 feet long.

Twenty thousand seats will be available for the two-day re-enactment. General admission will be $1.50, reserved seats $4 and reserved chairs $5. For "Hills of Glory" prices will range from $1.50 to $3.

The National Park Service has given full approval to the Antietam Centennial plans.

A co-operative agreement has been signed giving the Antietam-South Mountain Centennial Association full use of rights-of-ways, facilities and grounds under National Park Service control.

2,000 CAMPERS

The Spang Farm will be used as a bivouac area for skirmishers and their families. Over 2,000 people from all over the United States, some traveling thousands of miles, are expected to camp there. Water and sanitation will be furnished, and a well dug there.

The National Park Service said a new road would be built to the McKinley Overlook near Burnside Bridge sometime this summer. After the Antietam Centennial, they said, it will become a recreation and picnic area on the Antietam Battlefield.

A 400-bed hospital and ambulance unit will be set up on the battlefield to handle casualties, under supervision of the 136th Evacuation Hospital Unit, U. S. Army Reserve. An elaborate traffic control plan is being developed by the state police.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT

The pageant, "The Hills of Glory" is being written specifically for the Antietam-South Mountain Civil War Centennial Commission by George S. Elias, professional spectacular writer. All scenes and episodes in the spectacular have been scrutinized by the Maryland Civil War Centennial Commission committee of themes and memorials for their authenticity and correctness in the production.

The 15-episode spectacular will begin with the earliest days of Maryland and lead into the events and causes of the Battle of Antietam. Special vignettes of historical fact will add to the unique production. Special attention is focused on "General Lee Divides His Army," "The Story of the Lost Order," "Hookers Drive," "The Bloody Cornfields," "Story of Clara Barton," "Bloody Lane," "Oliver Wendall Holmes' Search for His Son," etc. A spectacular portion of the production will be the life-sized reproduction of Burnside Bridge stage center and mounted nearly 20 feet in the air. The battle at the bridge will be one of the most realistic portions of the production.

The area's most outstanding historians have collaborated with Elias to bring authenticity to the production.

SAYS STATE SHOULD HAVE OWN LAWYER

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's legislature should have its own attorney to plead its side of the reapportionment issue before the courts, House Speaker H. G. Andrews said today.

The attorney general cannot—by law or tradition—represent the General Assembly, Andrews said in a statement.

Andrews' attempt to cut the legislative adrift from the attorney general's services came after Gov. Lawrence said Andrews' tiff with the courts over reapportionment did not represent the position of the Democratic Party and apparently was a one-man war.

17 OUT OF LINE

Last week, Atty. Gen. David Stahl conceded in Commonwealth Court here that the courts have jurisdiction in the reapportionment issue. Lawrence also has stated his belief that there is a need to re-map the Senate and House seats in line with the latest population figures for the state.

About 17 counties have either too many or too few representatives in the lower chamber. The House last was reapportioned in 1953. The Senate has not been overhauled since 1906, although two Philadelphia districts were realigned in 1921.

Andrews has resisted staunchly any incursions into the legislative branch of government by the judiciary, although he has conceded in the past the need for reapportionment.

The speaker, an 85-year-old Johnstown Democrat, has pointed out, however, that the State Constitution—by limiting the number of senators Philadelphia may have, by guaranteeing each county a representative in the House and by other provisions for calculating representation in the two chambers—makes the task of reapportionment on a strict population basis difficult.

Meeting Tuesday evening at the Battleground Restaurant, the local Exchange Club accepted an invitation from York Exchange Club for a joint meeting to be held Tuesday, June 26, at the Hotel Yorktown.

Steve Van Buren, formerly of the Philadelphia Eagles, will be the speaker. The local Exchange Club will meet at 5:30 o'clock that evening at the Gettysburg Motors parking lot on York St. to go to York as a group.

Attend Graduation: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sheely and daughter, Marion, and son Donald, West Middle St., left for Philadelphia where they will attend commencement exercises at the University of Pennsylvania. Raymond Sheely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sheely, is a member of the graduating class of the medical college of the university.

Local Man Wed: Lester R. Stauffer, son of H. T. Stauffer, Baltimore St., and Miss Muriel Olsen of Long Beach, California, were married June 4. Stauffer is a chief yeoman in the United States Navy. He has been in the service 13 years. At present he is enroute to Norfolk, Virginia, where he will be located in the near future.

Gets Music Degree: Miss Eva Sachs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther I. Sachs, York street, has returned to her home after graduating from Susquehanna University, Selingsgrove. Miss Sachs and six other members of the class of forty-two received the bachelor of music degree. She majored in piano and minored in voice.

'Comfortable' After Appendectomy: Judge W. C. Sheely, president judge of the Adams-Fulton district, was operated upon at the Annie M. Warner Hospital for appendicitis. The operation was successful and late this afternoon Judge Sheely was reported to be resting comfortably. Court work will be handled without interruption by outside judges when necessary.

Dr. Newton Leaves Hospital: Dr. Joseph Fort Newton of Philadelphia has been discharged from the Annie M. Warner Hospital where he was admitted Sunday evening when taken suddenly ill. Doctor Newton was forced to cancel his address at the commencement exercises of Gettysburg College Monday morning.

Death Ends Career: Filmdom lost one of its most glamorous personalities in the death of Jean Harlow who, as a child in Kansas City, was called Harlean Carpenter. The star was stricken with uremic poisoning following an operation, at the height of a career rivaling in romance and tragedy any of the roles that brought her wealth and fame. Interest at the funeral centered on William Powell, screen actor, who made public declaration of his love just after Miss Harlow's death. Her first husband was Charles McGrew, III, wealthy sportsman, who married her when she was only sixteen; her second husband, Paul Bern, film producer, died mysteriously a few months after their wedding; and Hal Rosson, her third husband, was divorced from her in 1934. After a Christian Science funeral, Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald sang two of Jean's favorites "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Indian Love Call." The stricken Powell was reported engaged to Jean and was at her bedside at the time of her death.

Plank Brothers Take Brides: In a double ceremony George Curtis Plank and William Henry Plank, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Plank, Chambersburg street, were married respectively to Miss Ruth Bernadette Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Miller, Carlisle Road, and Miss Mildred Elizabeth Keefe, daughter of Mrs. Mamie C. Keefe, York street, at a solemn high mass celebrated by the Rev. Mark E. Stock in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church. The brides wore white lace over white satin and long trailing veils, and carried bouquets of white roses. Four hundred friends and relatives attended the ceremonies. After the wedding, breakfast was served at Hill's Coffee Shop. Following the breakfast, the newlyweds departed on a tour of the New England States and Canada and upon their return both couples will take up residence.

LOST OPPORTUNITIES
I have never met a man or woman who desired to live his or her entire life over again. I have met those who wished they might have lived their past life better, or regretted the mistakes they made, or their lost opportunities, but they didn't want to go back again and try it all over.

As I look back upon my own life, I feel about the same as do most men. I regret mostly my lost opportunities. I see where I could have achieved much more than I have, and been of greater service to the world.

So the great lesson of youth seems to be that of grasping opportunities. And there are so many. John James Ingalls, in his famous poem, wrote of the opportunity that "knocked unbidden, once at every gate" but if answered not it returned no more. The truth is that opportunities hover about us all, all our lives. None of us ever get too old not to have opportunities about us.

But every opportunity seized makes every new opportunity that much more intimate to us. So that we may form an opportunity habit.

It is unfortunate that youth has to put up with such a scanty gift of experience, for it is really experience that teaches quickness of decision, enabling one to grasp opportunities when they come.

But then there are compensations. Youth has its dreams, its illusions, and its enthusiasms, whereas age has its poise, its richness of experience, and its reconstructed viewpoints.

He who has lived a full life renders very little complaint about lost opportunities. To him, more than to any other, is given the ability to measure the beauty of a dying day and a matchless summer!

ILL TEMPER
He spoke in anger words that he forgot would long remembered be;

Ill-chosen words he'd never use
Had he but taken time to choose;
Harsh words, which had he stopped to think

He'd not perpetuate in ink.
Yet in another's mind they'll stay
Indelibly for many a day.

He spoke in haste and all that day
A girl went frightened on her way;
Fretted and grieved and thought of him

As course, tyrannical and grim;
Recalled the cruel words he'd used;

Felt she'd unjustly been abused,
And long a bitter memory kept
As late into the night she wept.

Without the hurt that burns and stings,
He could have said the self-same things.

The girl had blundered, but he knew
That he in rage had blundered, too.

A trivial error to correct,
He'd lost his own and her respect,
And let a score of people see
How coarse in anger he could be.

Lancaster Firemen Hit Big Snag In Wheat Field

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—The U.S. Agriculture Department was under fire today from the Silver Springs Volunteer Fire Co. which ventured into the wheat growing business to pay off a mortgage then found out it couldn't sell the wheat.

"Ridiculous," said Russell Weidman, president of the fire company, after the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office in Lancaster County refused to issue the fire company a marketing quota.

Weidman said the entire project was to raise money to reduce the mortgage on the fire house. He said the agricultural service action was unfortunate and "a step toward losing our individual freedoms."

The fire company had been raising tobacco on 1 1/2 acres of land since 1955 to raise money for various purposes but last year it grew wheat in order to rotate the crops.

GROWN ILLEGALLY
The fire company said when it applied for the marketing quota last week to sell the wheat, it was told by officials that the wheat was grown illegally and that the fire company could be subjected to stiff marketing quota penalties of fines up to $100 an acre.

Under a law passed last year wheat may not be grown without an allotment from the government. Further, under present legislation wheat cannot be grown on any tract of land which hasn't been used for that purpose previously. The fire company apparently was unaware of this.

SAW $90 PROFIT
Weidman said production costs for growing the wheat ran about $100 with many of the volunteer firemen, some of whom are farmers, contributing their services free. He said the company had expected to realize about $100 from sale of the wheat, or about $90 profit.

The company was undecided whether to bale the mowed down wheat and sell it for straw or plow it under and go back to growing tobacco next year.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration, which put out word months ago that it would make an all-out fight for medical care for the aged, is backtracking. If any real fight was made it wasn't very obvious.

Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff opened the way Monday to compromise at a meeting behind closed doors with the House Ways and Means Committee.

He is reported to have said President Kennedy is standing firm on only one point—that, whatever a compromise program turns out to be, it must be tied into the Social Security System.

Last March White House sources let out word the administration was coordinating a massive grass roots efforts. This coordinating was supposed to be done with outside organizations backing Kennedy's program.

MADE PUBLIC APPEAL
Kennedy himself, aside from press conference statements, made one big public appeal for support. This was in a speech nationally broadcast from Madison Square Garden May 20.

The administration's efforts—at least to this writer—have always looked less than all-out.

There was some fighting. Kennedy got into an arguing match with the American Medical Association which has opposed his program.

But there has been very little evidence of any real fighting in the one place where it counts most: with Congress.

The big obstacle there was with the Ways and Means Committee, headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills, Arkansas Democrat. In that 25-man committee, where Democrats outnumber Republicans 15 to 10, the majority has been consistently opposed to Kennedy's program.

MILLS LEADS FOES
Leading the opposition is Mills. As chairman, he is a very important man to the administration since his committee also handles tax problems, foreign trade and other matters dear to Kennedy.

Further, Mills, along with Sen. Robert Kerr, Oklahoma Democrat, was cosponsor two years ago of the Kerr-Mills bill which became law and provides medical care for aged people but on a very limited basis.

This Kerr-Mills Act has been one of the biggest headaches to the administration's hopes of getting through its own new medical care bill. It has a lot of supporters in Congress.

Its biggest outside supporter is the AMA, which says the Kerr-Mills Act is just fine although the Kennedy administration takes the position it can't be fine because it doesn't provide coverage for enough aged people.

AVOIDS HARSHNESS
Nevertheless, the administration has shied away from being harsh about the Kerr-Mills Act. At all times the Kennedy administration has limited itself to a gentlemanly skirmish while avoiding all-out war.

Mills, one of the most powerful Democrats in the House because he is chairman of the very powerful Ways and Means Committee, is a chief obstacle and opponent.

Kennedy is not in a very good position to blame the wreckage of his bill on the Republicans—many of whom have also been trying to shoot it to pieces—when the Republicans are so badly outnumbered by the Democrats.

Chicago (AP)—The Chicago Packers of the National Basketball Association were seeking a new head coach today after firing Jim Pollard.

Pollard was dismissed Tuesday and then was offered a job as assistant to General Manager Frank Lane. However, it was believed Pollard would refuse the new position.

Littlestown ERNEST KRAPE TALKS TO CLUB

Ernest Krape, Gettysburg artist, was the guest speaker at the June meeting of the Littlestown Arts and Crafts Club held Monday evening in the social room of the Eagles Home, W. King St. Mr. Krape painted a picture of a floral bouquet while explaining his work to the club.

The business session was in charge of Mrs. William T. Gingrow Jr., president. Classes in ceramics will be conducted during the summer months by Mrs. Paul Tressler. Persons interested in attending these classes should contact Mrs. Gingrow for additional information. Mrs. William M. Ebaugh, secretary, gave her report. During the social hour refreshments were served by Mrs. Samuel H. Higginbotham and Mrs. Robert H. Miller.

The club will meet again Monday, July 9, at 8 p.m. when Mrs. Paul V. Long, Harrisburg, will be the guest speaker on flower arranging. Mrs. Long is the former Angela Schott of town and sister of the club president. The July hostesses will be Mrs. Monroe J. Staveland and Mrs. H. C. Oberlander.

250 BOOK LOANS
The Misses Sally Busbey, Suzanne Weaver and Faith Redding, of town, were among two buses of students from Delone Catholic High School who attended a weekend retreat in Mendam, N.J. Enroute there Saturday morning a surprise party was held in honor of the 16th birthday of Sally Busbey. Refreshments were provided by the girls.

Custodians of the Littlestown Free Lending Library announced that 250 books were borrowed from the library during May by 148 subscribers. Thirteen books were recently donated for the library shelves by Rev. and Ms. William R. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. David E. Greason have sold their property on N. Queen St. Ext. to Mr. and Mrs. James Nickey, of town. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gerver, Littlestown R. 2, have sold their property to Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Schaefer. The sales were made through Stanley R. Sell, local real estate agent.

Miss Lulu Rohrbach, Mr. and Mrs. John Hawker, Jenia, O.; Miss Arlene Bowman and Miss Helen Hesson, Hanover, visited recently with the former's cousin, Mrs. Thomas O. Weaver, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Altoff, E. Myrtle St.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The copyright laws should be revised to give musicians more profits from recordings they made, says a Democratic congressman.

U. S. Rep. Robert N. Giampo, D-Conn., made the remarks Tuesday at the 65th annual convention of the American Federation of Musicians (AFL-CIO).

It all raises a nice question: If he can't get what he wants with all these Democrats, how many more does he need to help him get through the legislation he asks for?

Son Of Former County Teacher Wins Honors

John Black, son of the late John Black, who was well known here as a teacher at Woodside and Gettysburg High School and as a storekeeper in Heidlersburg, has been selected by the 2,400 members of the Class of 1962 as the outstanding graduating senior at Pennsylvania State University. He has also been awarded the similar honor given by the faculty.

The family moved to Lancaster about 1940 when the father accepted a post with Ar.strong Cork Co., sold his store at Heidlersburg and resigned as a teacher at the high school here. He died a number of years ago. The son, John Black, currently resides with his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Tawzer, Lancaster.

The young man graduated from McCaskey High School, Lancaster, in 1955 and spent his first year in college at Southern California University where he was a staff member of the "Daily Collegian." He then joined the U.S. Marine Corps and served with it for two years before transferring to Penn State in September, 1958.

CAMPUS HONORS
He served twice as editor of "The Daily Collegian," student newspaper at Pennsylvania State University. He was president of Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's leadership and scholarship honorary fraternity. He was also president of Parmi Nous, senior men's activities honorary fraternity. He was a member of Lions Paw, senior honor society; Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary fraternity; Hetzel Union Board, Athletic Advisory Board and La Vie yearbook board of control.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An additional $32 million should be added to the state's annual expenditures for industrial development and redevelopment projects, says Richardson Dilworth, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate.

Dilworth, taking an all-day tour of Pittsburgh redevelopment projects Tuesday, told a luncheon audience the present $8 million spent for the state's industrial development projects is not enough.

The former Philadelphia mayor and Pittsburgh Mayor Joseph Barr toured the city's redevelopment projects in the North Side, Oakland and East Liberty sections. The tour was described as nonpolitical.

Yankees Beat Tigers And Return To Top Spot While L.A. Dumps Twins, Move Up

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
The fourth place Los Angeles Angels crept within a game and a half of the first-place New York Yankees Tuesday night and Lee Thomas provided the punch in a 7-5 victory over Minnesota.

The 26-year-old left-handed swinger hit his eighth and ninth homers against the Twins, connecting with one on in the third and tagging another with the bases empty in the seventh.

The defeat dropped the Twins from the league lead into third place. The Yankees took over the top spot with a 2-1 triumph over Detroit. Cleveland, rained out at Washington, moved percentage points ahead of Minnesota into second place.

EDGE WHITE SOX

Kansas City edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1 on Dave Wickensham's three-hitter and Boston squeezed by Baltimore 4-3 in other games.

Although Thomas provided the fireworks for the Angels, it took a three-run outburst in the sixth inning to snap a 3-3 tie and subdue the Twins. Felix Torres' single drove in the tie-breaker as the Angels got the benefit of four walks in the inning.

Bill Stafford (6-3) held the Tigers to three hits until the ninth when singles by Rocky Colavito, Vic Wertz and Chico Fernandez scored a run and snapped a string of 25 scoreless innings compiled by the Yankee right-hander. Roger Maris hit home run No. 11, in the third inning after the Yanks had moved ahead in the first on Phil Linz' single, a sacrifice by Bobby Richardson and Johnny Blanchard's single. The loser was Yankee nemesis Frank Lary (1-4), now 28-11 lifetime against New York.

HOMER FOR MALZONE

Wickensham, reliever turned starter, won his fourth against one loss as a front-liner with a three-hitter for the A's and brought his over-all record to an impressive 7-2. White Sox starter Juan Pizarro (3-5), who allowed only eight hits, lost it when a single by Manny Jimenez, Gino Cimoli's triple and a single by Joe Azcue scored two runs in the eighth.

Frank Malzone drove in the first three Red Sox runs with a single and two-run homer. Carroll Hardy knocked in the clincher with a double in the third and robbed Jim Gentile of a grand slam homer in the sixth. Boston's Gary Geiger cut down the potential tying run in the ninth by throwing Dick Williams out at the plate, preserving the triumph for Ike Delock (1-0). Jack Fisher (1-2) lost it.

PALMER IS OUT OF HIS SLUMP

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer
OAKMONT, Pa. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, his confidence booming again like his rocket-ride drives, is a 5-1 favorite to gain the second leg of professional golf's grand slam in the 62nd U.S. Open championship beginning Thursday at the rugged Oakmont Country Club course.

"I'm out of the slump with my irons, if that's what it was, and my finger isn't bad at all," said the bronzed Masters champion from close-by Latrobe, Pa., after firing a 2-under-par 69 in his last major warmup on the 6,894-yard, par 36-35—71 course he has played on and off since he was a youngster.

"You could say I'm driving and putting pretty well. If my finger doesn't get any worse, it's not going to restrict me at all. The only time it really hurts is when I'm signing autographs."

Two stitches came loose Tuesday in the inch-long gash Palmer suffered on the ring finger of his right hand Sunday night while he was putting luggage into the trunk of his car. "I pulled 'em out," he said, "and it's a little tender but I don't think it'll need to be sewn up again."

Support continues strong for defending champion Gene Littler, despite an estimated 82 in his first look at Oakmont, and such other tournament-tested stars as Billy Casper, Gary Player, Dow Finsterwald, Mike Souchak, Doug Sanders, Doug Ford, Jack Nicklaus, and, of course, ol' Samuel Jackson Snead, who will make his 22nd try for his first Open title.

Braves Clobber Dodgers As Giants Take Pair At Cincinnati; Bucs Are 3rd

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Halting the taintspin which dropped them out of the National League lead, the San Francisco Giants snapped their six-game losing streak Tuesday night, sweeping a doubleheader from Cincinnati 2-1 and 7-5 and moved back within a game of the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Dodgers, rolling with seven victories in nine games and 20 in 24, ran into a 17-hit, five-homer Milwaukee outburst behind Lew Burdette's six-hit pitching and lost a game and a half of their lead with a 15-2 clobbering by the Braves.

The defending champion Reds fell from third place to fifth. Pittsburgh moved into third, 7½ behind, by edging the Chicago Cubs 4-3 and St. Louis nipped Philadelphia 3-2 to take over fourth. Houston defeated New York's Mets 3-2.

2 CEPEDA HOMERS

Juan Marichal (9-4) checked the Reds on seven hits in the opener and drove in the winning run in a two-run seventh inning surge that put it away for the Giants.

Orlando Cepeda drove in four runs for the Giants in the nightcap with two homers—a three-run shot in the first and a solo in the fifth that eventually proved to be the deciding run. Moe Drabowsky (1-5) was the loser.

Burdette, (4-4), recording his second complete game in a row and fourth consecutive triumph, retired 19 in a row at one stretch while the Braves were pounding Johnny Podres (3-5) and two successors, Hank Aaron, who had three hits, and Ed Mathews each hit home run No. 11 and Gus Bell, Frank Bolling and Tommie Aaron also connected. Mathews' homer was the 38th of his career, tying him for eighth place with the Yankees' Mickey Mantle.

Outbatted by the Cubs 11-8, the Pirates scored two runs in the first and two in the second for their fourth victory in a row.

CARDS WIN ON HOMER

The Pirates then held on behind Harvey Haddix (5-2) and relief ace Elroy Face, Glen Hobbie (1-8) lost it.

Rookie Fred Whitfield tagged a two-run homer off Paul Brown (6-5) in the eighth inning to win it for the Cardinals. Brown had opened the seventh with a double and scored to put the Phillies in front 2-1. The victory, the eighth in nine games for St. Louis, went to former Phil Don Ferrarese (1-2).

Joe Amalfitano's single drove in pinch runner Roman Mejias with the winning run and climaxed a two-run uprising in the last of the ninth that gave the Colts their victory over the Mets. An infield single by Billy Goodman and Pidge Browne's pinch-hit triple off Craig Anderson (3-6) preceded Amalfitano's game-winning. Ken Johnson (4-6) was the winner.

MERCURY DIPS INTO LOW 30'S IN MANY AREAS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures dropped into the 30s in parts of the northern Midwest today as cold Canadian air spread across the northeast quarter of the nation.

The mercury edged to near freezing in Marquette, Mich. Readings were in the 40-50 range in most of the cool belt. It was warm in much of the South with temperatures in the 70-80 degree range.

As the chilly air moved eastward, rain and showers broke out in many sections from the New Jersey coast through western Virginia to northern border areas of Mississippi. Thunderstorms and showers also erupted in the warm and humid regions of the Southland.

Rain splashed across Western sections, with heavy amounts in some areas. The wet belt extended across parts of the Rocky Mountain region, the northern plateau westward into western Washington and in western sections of the plains states.

A flash flood, in the wake of heavy rain and hail storms, hit Hay Springs in northwest Nebraska.

MINOSO FRETS AT IDLENESS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"It's too late for me to be afraid of the wall, to be afraid of the ball," says Minnie Minoso. "It will never happen. I could not be afraid."

He sat in the empty St. Louis Cardinal dressing room Tuesday night squeezing the handle of a bat with his right hand, trying to build up the muscles in his injured wrist.

The 40-year-old veteran fractured his head and his wrist last month when he hit the concrete left field wall in Busch Stadium while chasing a ball. He is on the disabled list.

"I got hurt on the job," he said in broken English. "There is nothing I can do. That is destiny. 'If I die on the field, it is a good place to die.'"

Minoso said he gets "a little lonesome. Sometimes I sit in the dressing room during the game, sometimes I sit at home. I pinch hit in my head—not that I think I do better than other men—but it is hard not to play. It makes you mad that you can't do anything for the team—just practice and hope for them."

Methodists Named 5 Superintendents

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Methodist Church has named five superintendents for its newly revised districts.

Four officials received new one-year appointments Tuesday to the post similar to those they held under the previous organization. The are: Altoona District, Dr. J. F. Stamm, Altoona; Harrisburg District, Dr. E. A. Henry, Harrisburg; Sunbury District, Dr. F. W. Montgomery, Sunbury; Williamsport District, the Rev. G. L. Bennett, Williamsport.

The Rev. E. N. Rowe, Clearfield, was named superintendent of the State College District.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A full-scale model of the Mercury space capsule used by America's astronauts was successfully parachuted into Trinity Bay here Tuesday.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration manned space craft center crews directed the parachute system of the capsule.

Spokesmen said a model of the improved Mercury capsule will be dropped in about 20 days and the remodeled capsule itself will be tested in about a month.

The new capsule will use retro rockets instead of a parachute to lessen the impact.

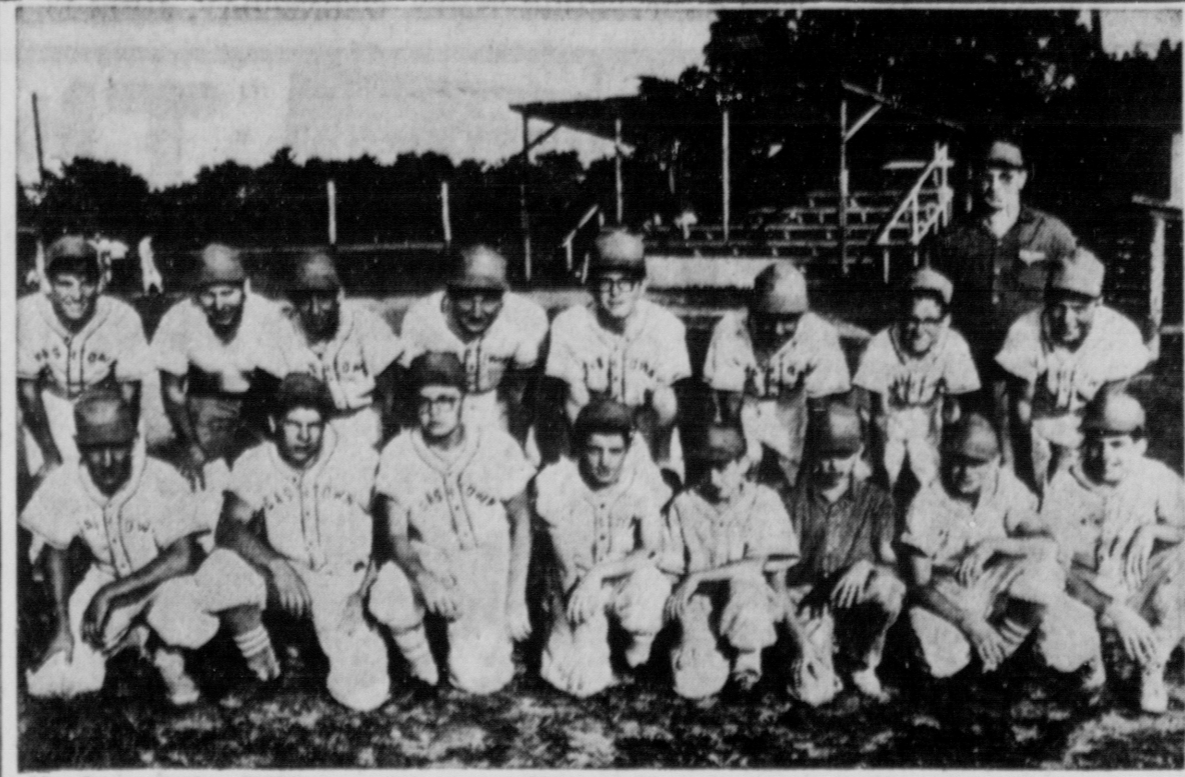

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Carpet beetles are not necessarily vermin, according to the state court of appeals, which upheld a lower-court award of $2,000 to Jacob Sincoff of Manhattan.

Sincoff claimed $7,810 from the Liberty Mutual Fire Insurance Co. for damage carpet beetles had done to his household furnishings.

The insurance company said the policy specifically excluded damage caused by vermin.

The high court said Tuesday that "vermin" was ambiguous and that a vague exclusion in the policy did not prevent payment of loss.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration's manned spacecraft center in Houston, Tex. Twisters also menaced other parts of Texas, which has been hit by violent weather daily for more than a week.

FAVOR CARR TO WIN AGAIN

HOYLAK, England (AP)—Joe Carr, the golfing pride of Ireland, was a clear favorite today to win the British Amateur Championship for the fourth time—with 12 Americans still among those trying to stop him.

England's Michael Bonallack, last year's winner and top seed, was shocked into a 2 and 1 defeat Tuesday by a young Irishman, Jackson Taggart. The experts predicted that with Bonallack gone, no one would be able to hold the big hitting Carr on this course of long flat fairways.

The 40-year-old Irishman, who won the title in 1953, 1958 and 1960 was scheduled to meet John Langridge, a little known English player, in the third round.

Robert Sweeney, 50, of Palm Beach, Fla., who won this title in 1937, met John Glozer of Northern Ireland in the second round.

David Goldman, 53, of Dallas, Tex., who was runner up to Lawson Little in the American Amateur of 1934, was matched against R. E. Rimmer of England in the third round.

Goldman reached the final of the French Amateur last week.

RACERS TO MEET

A meeting of all persons interested in drag strip racing will be held at Williams Grove Speedway Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. Bob Richwine, owner of the "Grove," announced today.

The affair will be of an organizational nature and will determine what will be done about drag racing at the Grove this season. The meeting will be held in the grandstand in the event of inclement weather.

BALTIMORE SIGNS

CLEVELAND (AP)—Professional hockey returns to Baltimore next season after a six-year absence.

The American Hockey League's Board of Governors Tuesday granted the city a franchise, making it the ninth team in the league. A fire which destroyed Carlin's Park in 1956 cost the Baltimore Clippers of the Eastern League a home rink. The franchise was moved then to Charlotte, N.C.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Ann Netsky of Green Valley, Pa., and Tish Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., led a field of 65 players today going into the second hole round of the Women's Eastern Golf Championship.

Miss Preuss, runnerup last year for the national title, fashioned a round of 40-37 for a two-over-par 77 Tuesday over a rainy but windless East Course at Merion Golf Club.

Dust tomato halves and fry in bacon fat in a heavy skillet; remove the tomatoes and keep warm, then make a cream gravy in the drippings left in the skillet.

South Hills Adds 5 Holes To Course

An 18-hole course will be offered golfing fans starting Saturday when the South Hills course, two miles south of Hanover, will complete the addition of five new holes to its present 13.

The new five holes are on the back nine and total 3,012 yards for which a par 35 has been established. The front nine, 3,349 yards, has a par 36.

On Sunday a partners-best-ball tournament, with 85 per cent handicap, will be held with the tourney being open to anyone having an accredited handicap.

NEAR MISS FOR PHILLY ROOKIE

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Rookie Paul Brown came as close as he has ever to winning his first major league game for the Philadelphia Phillies.

But a walk and another rookie cost him his fifth defeat instead as the St. Louis Cardinals scored two runs in the eighth inning Tuesday night to defeat the Phillies 3-2.

Brown had pitched well for seven innings and had doubled and scored a run which gave the Phillies a 2-1 lead in the seventh.

But he walked Julian Javier to open the eighth. Then Fred Whitfield, recently recalled from Atlanta and in the lineup only because a pulled muscle, belted a homer onto the right field roof. Brown had given up only four hits—all singles—until the homer.

Don Ferrarese, an ex-Phil, who pitched the last two innings for the Cardinals, got the victory, his first against two losses.

A walk to Doug Clemens also cost Brown a run in the third. He moved to third on a sacrifice and Curt Flood's single and scored when third baseman Don Demeter's throw home was late on Javier's grounder.

The Phils got an unearned run off starter Ernie Broglio in the sixth.

MARY STUART WINS NOTICE IN SOAP OPERA

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—For the past 11 years, actress Mary Stuart has been learning 15 pages of dialogue a day five days a week, rehearsing all morning and acting for 15 minutes—live—in CBS' mid-day serial, "Search for Tomorrow."

As Mrs. Arthur Tate, wife, mother and solid citizen, she has suffered mightily—even gone on trial for murder (the normal lot of any soap-opera heroine).

In exchange, Miss Stuart receives a big, regular salary check and is constantly showered with home-made aprons and pot-holders from affectionate viewers.

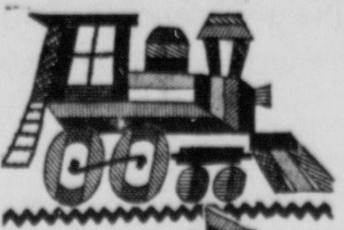

VERY GRATIFYING

But the professional life of the performer in the day-time serial, despite many advantages, does not have quite the status and professional chic of the prime-time actors. Therefore, Miss Stuart was especially gratified when, last month, she was nominated as one of the five candidates for a television "Emmy" in the category for best actress in a series.

She didn't win the statue—Shirley Booth did—but the recognition was immensely satisfying.

Miss Stuart, a native of Florida and in private life a wife and JOHNSTON IS WINNER IN S.C.

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—U.S. Sen. Olin D. Johnston handed young South Carolina Gov. Ernest F. Hollings a shattering political defeat Tuesday, winning their battle for Senate nomination by a landslide margin of nearly 2-1.

With 1,469 of the state's 1,604 precincts reporting, Johnston had 175,073 votes to 89,487 for Hollings.

Johnston will face Republican W. D. Workman Jr., Columbia newspaper columnist, in the November general elections.

Donald Russell, 55, Spartanburg mother of two children aged 6 and 5, says that the trick in serial acting is to be real.

"These programs are difficult to write and to act," she reflected. "You must be the woman next door to the audience. And because they can see you—their imagination is not called into play—you can't get into the sophisticated type of thing you could do in radio."

SLOW SAHL START

Mort Sahl certainly achieved a slow start on his stint as this week's "Tonight Show" host.

Sahl's usual patter—that odd combination of introspective psychiatric jargon and swipes at politicians and world leaders—does not come off too well in a setting for conversation.

On Monday night, the program was almost completely turned over to extremely stuffy and single-minded men—a magazine publisher and a movie producer—interested only in plugging their products.

Recommended tonight: "Mystery Theater," NBC, 9-10—first of a series of thrillers which will be Perry Como's summer replacement, this called "Close Pursuit" with Jan Sterling and Beverly Garland; Steel Hour, CBS, 10-11—"You Can't Escape," live drama with Mark "Cain's Hundred" Richman and Alice Ghostley.

NAVIGATION SECRETS OF BIRDS, BEES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bird and bee navigation secrets, balloons for scientists, and a space jaywalker are topics in science news:

BIRD AND BEE SECRETS

Humans have made great progress in developing guidance systems for space vehicles, but "it will take 100 years for electronics to catch up with the sophisticated guidance and sensory systems of the birds and the bees," says John L. Burns, former president of Radio Corporation of America.

"Evidence now at hand suggests that in flight the bat finds his way by bouncing ultrasonic waves off solid objects; the pigeon homes on the magnetic lines of the earth; a bird flies thousands of miles from the tree branch in your backyard, and returns to the same branch, through stellar navigation attorney and former president of the University of South Carolina, ran away from Lt. Gov. Burnet R. Maybank and three others to win the Democratic nomination for governor. The nomination is tantamount to election since the Republicans have no candidate in the November election.

Russell polled 162,801 votes in returns from 1,482 precincts. His four opponents drew a total of 106,868 votes with runner-up Maybank getting 85,514.

The primary contest was the first political test for the 65-year-old Johnston in 12 years.

"If we could only translate this characteristic into a mathematical formula—and then into hardware—we could endow an earth satellite with a similarly adaptable 'eye' that would select the precise information it was sent aloft to obtain."

FLOATING LABORATORY

Scientists are getting their own special balloon flight station, to be set up this summer at Palestine, Texas.

From this base, they can release balloons lofting up instruments for high altitude study of the atmosphere and weather phenomena, for astronomical studies above the clouding effects of the earth's air, and for capturing primary cosmic rays.

Long planned, the balloon facility will be built and operated by the National Center for Atmospheric Research at Boulder, Colo., with the tab paid by the National Science Foundation.

SPACE JAYWALKER

Hermes is the name of one of the sun's minor planets, a chunk of rock about a mile in diameter, weighing perhaps three billion tons.

Unlike other minor planets that follow orderly paths between Mars and Jupiter, Hermes has an eccentric orbit, and can actually come within about 200,000 miles of the earth, closer than the moon itself, and a near miss, cosmically speaking.

But the chance that it or similar bodies would ever collide with the earth with devastating effects is infinitesimally small, says John W. Macvey in Space Digest magazine.

Perhaps, he suggests, men in space ships one day might be able to rendezvous with one of the minor planets possessing a wide-ranging orbit, equip it with

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There are people who think the ideal home machine is one which would air condition the place in summer—and serve as a television set the rest of the year.

Those are the kind of people who criticize summer television programs because they are largely a rehash of things shown previously.

"It's the same old stuff," they complain. "Nothing new."

To some thoughtful aficionados, however, the sameness of summer television isn't so bad. It's the sameness of winter television that seems to them the real problem. The summer sameness is just an echo.

HAS REWARDS

But I'm not so sure I'd want the situation changed. It has certain over-all rewards as it is now.

There was a time when I, like many others, wanted television to be new and challenging and different. And I yapped because it wasn't.

But lately I've been thinking along these lines: After all, television is like having a guest in your living room.

We have had our set for 10 full years now. Some people have sets that are always breaking down. We have a set that never breaks down. You could hit our set over the forehead with a watermelon, and it would only blink its big transmitters, and let it send back data on the reaches of space it visits.

bright eye—and go right on. NOT A STRANGER

This perennial guest in our living room is no longer a stranger. We have learned to live with it, and now regard it rather fondly as a backyard member of the family who will never quite grow up.

We're not at all sure now we ever want it to grow up. We have become accustomed to its ways.

Consider, on the other hand, what might have happened if this guest in our living room had remained new, challenging and different. It would have made us all nervous wrecks.

Who wants a new, challenging and different guest in his living room every day for 10 full years? Nobody. Long ago we'd have been forced to turn the living room over to such a gabby, frightening monster. We'd have had to camp out somewhere between the bedroom and the kitchen.

SOME WANT CHANGES

There are some who'd like to see Kitty sell the Longbranch Saloon, sit fire to Marshal Dillon, have Doc operate on Chester's leg, then elope with Chester to Kansas City and open a beauty parlor.

There are even some who'd like to see Jack Benny change his expression or take up the piano.

Well, not us. We have thought this matter through, and we prefer to keep things as they are.

Every time we open our front door we run into something new and challenging and different. Life outside is so new and challenging and different it rather frightens us sometimes.

That's why we've decided we want that longtime guest in our living room to stay as sweet and hopeful as he is.

111 DOGS, 60 CATS LIVING WITH WIDOW

BOSTON (AP)—Cats, and cats, and cats. Dogs, and dogs, and dogs.

That's what police found in a Hyde Park dwelling when they broke down the door after neighbors complained of offensive odors.

On the ground floor, the officers counted 111 dogs of all sizes, shapes and breeds.

Upstairs, there were some 60 cats, black, calico, large, small—all kinds.

Animal rescue league crews removed the menagerie and police took a 63-year-old widow to Boston State Hospital for mental observation.

Police said the animals were well fed but the house wasn't fit for a dog or cat to live in.

The commission ordered the firm Tuesday to submit an engineering report showing planned improvements and their estimated cost.

JKF WILL ASK COMPROMISE ON MEDICARE

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's lieutenants and his legislative supporters are off on a new and crucial quest—a compromise version of his health care plan which the House Ways and Means Committee might accept.

As the committee renewed consideration of the proposal the White House showed signs Monday of giving ground. Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff's proposals to the panel in a closed session apparently signaled administration acceptance of two propositions:

1. Unless it is substantially changed, the proposal has no chance of obtaining approval by the powerful tax-writing committee which has had it on the table more than a year.

A MINUTE CHANCE
2. Unless the committee approves it, the measure has only a minute chance of enactment before Congress adjourns and the congressional election campaigns begin.

Asking not to be quoted directly, committee supporters of the bill said in interviews that Ribicoff's comments left no doubt the administration earnestly wants a bill this year.

It was understood Ribicoff told the committee Kennedy would have no part of a measure which did not contain Social Security financing for his health program for the aged. Everything else, so these sources were given to believe, is negotiable.

"SIGN OF DEFEAT"

At a news conference House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana took note of the administration's maneuvering and characterized it as a sign of defeat.

"I say they haven't got the votes to get this bill out of the Ways and Means Committee or to pass it in the House," Halleck said.

Raises $81,650 To Help Refugees

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A total of $81,650 for refugees who escaped to Hong Kong from Communist China was raised Monday by Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the president of the Republic of China, at a tea party she gave for 90 prominent Chinese women.

The largest donation was $10,000 pledged by Mrs. Chen Cheng, whose husband is vice president and premier.

The Chinese Nationalist government has offered to admit an unspecified number of refugees from the mainland to Formosa. So far no arrangements have been made for them, however.

U.S. Thanked For Peace Corps Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The top men of Nigeria's Parliament have thanked the United States for sending Peace Corps volunteers to their African nation—and asked for more.

Dennis Chuhade Osadebay, president of the Nigerian Senate, and Speaker of the House Ibrahim Jalo Waziri spoke at an African-American Institute Banquet Monday night.

Osadebay said that Nigeria is "grateful for the young men and women you have sent to us—send us more."

Peace Corps workers were threatened with expulsion from Nigeria last year because of a postcard written by an American girl who was a member of the group. The card was critical of life in Nigeria.

Waziri and Osadebay are here as leaders of a nine-man parliamentary delegation.

Rep. Mills Not Favoring Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee says he does not support proposals for an across the board tax cut.

The statement Tuesday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., posed an immediate threat to President Kennedy's announced intention of seeking a tax cut from Congress early next year.

In another development, Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., said today he is considering trying to write a general tax cut this year into the Kennedy administration's tax revision bill now before the Senate Finance Committee.

Mills, who heads the committee that handles all tax legislation in the House, said while testifying before another House committee, "You have not heard me advocating tax reduction this year or next year."

Kennedy Cancels Visit To Philly

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mayor James H. J. Tate said Monday President Kennedy has canceled plans to come to Philadelphia on Independence Day for the closing session of the annual governors' conference.

"It is my understanding the president has made other arrangements," said Tate. "I understand Caroline has him all tied up, as every good daddy should be on the Fourth of July."

Former President Harry S. Truman is to receive the Philadelphia Freedom Medal at the ceremonies Kennedy was to have attended.

said. "There is a growing awareness that this bill is not good."

The original administration proposal was for a schedule of hospital, nursing home and outpatient benefits—not including ordinary doctor bills—to be available to aged persons retired under Social Security and to be paid for by an increase in the payroll tax on employers and employees.

Possible areas of compromise would include the scale of benefits to be offered and the corresponding cost; provisions to take care of persons not covered by Social Security, which, according to estimates, could involve an outlay of as much as $150 million a year from the general fund of the Treasury, and devices to reassure hospitals which would fear federal domination from the contract provisions of the original bill.

DAVE BECK MAY HAVE TO SERVE PRISON TERM

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Although the government is ready to pass up a retrial of charges that Dave Beck, former Teamsters Union president, evaded $240,000 in personal income taxes, he may go to prison for falsifying union tax returns.

Charles S. Burdell, Beck's attorney, conceded that Monday after the U.S. Supreme Court refused to review Beck's conviction on two counts of filing false returns for 1950 and 1952.

Beck, who is 67, faces five years in federal prison and a $20,000 fine in the tax case.

In addition, last month the high court upheld Beck's conviction on state charges of embezzling $1,900 from sale of a Cadillac owned by the union. The sentence was up to 15 years in the state prison.

FACES PRISON

Beck couldn't be reached for comment, but his attorney said Beck very probably may have to go to prison shortly.

"I just don't know what recourse there can be," Burdell said. He said Beck would be free until records reach U.S. District Court in Tacoma, Wash.

Burdell said the returns filed for the union weren't seen nor signed by Beck and were information returns which don't require payment of taxes. The government said Beck had control and direction over the returns.

The decision which the Supreme Court refused to review was the action of the U.S. Court of Appeals which upheld the conviction on the tax return counts. At the time it upheld that conviction, the Court of Appeals set aside Beck's conviction on personal income tax evasion. He was sentenced to five years and fined $40,000 on that charge.

The Justice Department said that in the event the sentence on the false return charge becomes final it will not seek retrial of the evasion charges.

R. Smith was elected treasurer of the Democratic City Committee Monday night and said he would resign his state post, probably by July.

He said, "My position as a member of the governor's cabinet and my new post as party treasurer are not compatible."

The state post pays $20,000 a year. Presumably the city committee will match this. The post was vacated by the death of James P. Clark.

Smith long has been a close political associate of Rep. William J. Green Jr. who was re-elected chairman of the city committee Monday night for a sixth two-year term.

Smith has been state insurance commissioner since January, 1953, in the administration of former Gov. George M. Leader. Before that he served one term in Con-

"We're going to be the most physically fit department in this administration," Goldberg said Monday.

YANKEE MAGIC CIRCLE
Pleasant Nutmeg State Highway,
Lead To Country Rich In Scenic Beauty, Colonial History

By EDWARD COLLIER

Back in the days when it was the Yankees who were telling certain foreigners to "go home," the citizens of Connecticut already had put down roots of the good life that flourishes today.

The face of the Nutmeg State has a four-season beauty: now it is a dense green symphony of rolling hills graced by great oaks, maples and dogwoods that will flame in the fall. Here motoring is never monotonous. Stone and split-rail fences line the pastoral roads to 97 state parks and forests, village greens where Continental soldiers gathered, antique shops without count red barns and covered bridges, hundreds of blue lakes and woodland streams, a host of famed prep schools and, in almost every town, white Colonial churches whose steeples reach heavenward from square towers with four black-faced clocks.

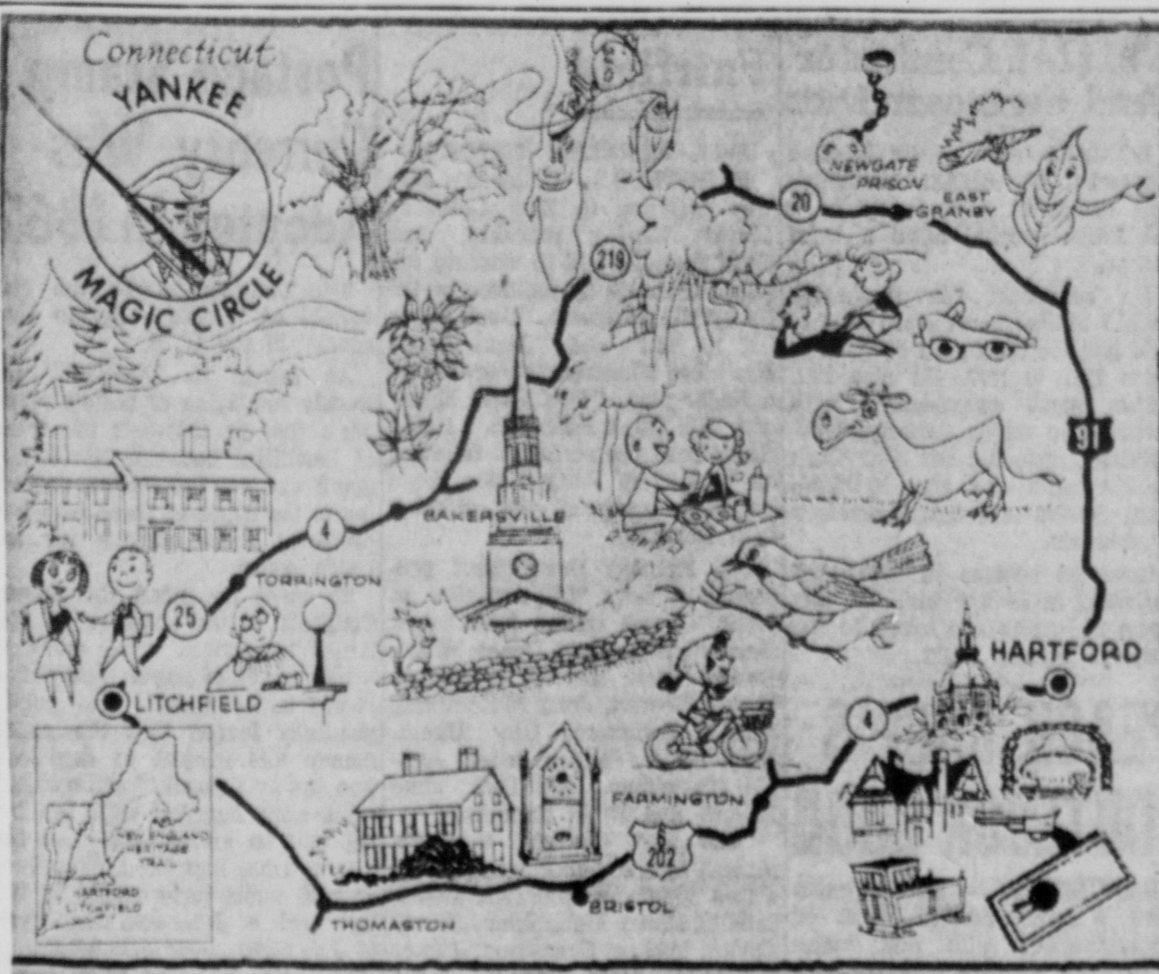

"New England's front parlor" best describes Litchfield, a key point on the Heritage Trail, and starting point of our Magic Circle tour around the Connecticut Yankee heartland. Giant elms shade the wide streets that line the high ridge overlooking the Naugatuck Valley. This is a living Williamsburg, for it never has had to be rebuilt or restored; some 20 of the lovely white clapboard mansions predating the Revolution still are lived in and loved. Seven of them can be seen by visitors on the annual Open House Day (July 7).

"MELTED MAJESTY"

There were no Continental cover-girl WACS back when "Red-coat" was a dirty word. So the good ladies of town went into action when a leaden equestrian statue of King George III was liberated from Bowling Green in New York City and transported to Litchfield by ox carts. In the apple orchard back of the dignified 1753 Wolcott House they reduced the royal image into 42,088 bullets so that the King's troops "might have melted majesty" fired at them.

Directly across South Street is the stately three-story home of Judge Tapping Reeve, now the nation's legal shrine and open to the public. Here in 1774 was founded the first U. S. law school. The austere white clapboard exterior belies the gracious warmth of the living room where the first classes were held. There are priceless, huge etched glass candleholders, tobacco cloth curtains, and hand-wrought floor boards up to 18 inches wide.

The family room is paneled in chestnut and walnut, but the showpiece is the upstairs bedroom of the law school's first student, Aaron Burr. The decor in varying shades of wedgewood blue and the fancy rope-spring canopied bed are in strange contrast to the life of this man who became the third U. S. vice president, a controversial financier and politician, but best remembered as the one who killed Alexander Hamilton in a duel. Over his fireplace is an oil painting of his only daughter Theodosia, a dark-haired beauty presumably carried off when pirates boarded her ship off the coast of South Carolina. She was never heard of again.

Connecticut's green hills are the setting for a Magic Circle auto tour to pivotal Nutmeg State points on the New England Heritage Trail. Starting at Litchfield, famed for its pre-Revolutionary mansions and the first U. S. law school, the route includes beautiful old churches like the one near Bakersville, blue lakes for fishing and picnicking, a side trip to grim Old Newgate—the first federal prison, and through shade-grown tobacco fields to Hartford. Highlights of the U. S. "insurance capital" are the Wadsworth Atheneum's fine museum displays, Mark Twain's flamboyant house built to resemble a riverboat, Colt firearms collection, Elizabeth Park's rose gardens and the castle-like state capitol. The return is through Farmington, a story-book Connecticut Yankee town and home of Miss Porter's School, alma mater of the present First Lady, and Bristol with its unique American Clock Museum.

INITIALS ON DESK

Out in the brick-paved old-fashioned garden, under the canopy of a great 200-year old copper beech tree, sits the little school that was built in 1784 when classes became larger. The high professor's podium has a quill pen and candle; one of the long desks at which students sat for lectures lasting four to six hours remains, deeply etched with carved initials. When the school finally closed in 1833, it had trained three Supreme Court justices, more than 100 U. S. senators and representatives, six Presidential Cabinet members, 14 governors and such famed men as John C. Calhoun, Noah Webster, the educator Horace Mann and Samuel B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph.

Down the street, at Gallows Lane, is the more modest birthplace of Col. Ethan Allen, Revolutionary hero who led his Green Mountain Boys in the capture of Fort Ticonderoga. The gallery of Colonial mansions continues on display as you drive across the village green and along North St.

Near the square, mansard-roofed 1760 Sheldon Tavern, a D.A.R. plaque marks the spot where Sarah Pierce's School for the Instruction of Females was opened in 1792 to become the first academy for girls in America.

OLD SUGAR MAPLES

Many years ago the birthplace home of Harriet Beecher Stowe, who wrote "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and her brother, the noted minister Henry Ward Beecher, was moved a block down the road. Today it is the administration building of the Forman Schools, another Litchfield "first" — at least for New England prep schools — because it is discreetly coeducational.

The ridgetop campus commands a panorama north to the blue Berkshire Mountains, and where it is bisected by a brook there is an easily discernible trace of the route from the Hudson River Valley that connected with the old Boston Post Road from New York. Ancient sugar maples flank both sides of the grassy road where coaches often carried General Washington, the Marquis de Lafayette and other notables.

Leaving Litchfield, the road (Conn. 25) is past what many consider to be a classic among the stately Colonial era white clapboard Congregational churches that dot the state. Torrington is a new-look industrial center, largely due to urban renewal forced on it by the disastrous flood of 1955. The first brass mill in America was started here a hundred years ago, and a bronze plaque marks the location of the world's first condensed milk factory in 1837.

LOVELY OLD CHURCH

Near Bakersville the pastoral highway (Conn. 4) is punctuated by one of the loveliest churches in the state. Set in a clearing in the woods newly refurbished and glistening white, its tall clock steeple has a gold dome topped by a weather vane angel blowing its horn. The spotless interior is graced by shell-pink walls, one great brass candelabrum and box pews.

There is a top-of-the-world feeling when you turn your wheel north (Conn. 219) with hilltop vistas of lush green valleys. Beautiful Colonial country homes, old and new, line the way as you near New Hartford. The quaint village resembles a 1900 photograph; its largest business apparently a big barn antique shop that spills out into the field with everything from junk to a flock of spinning wheels.

For several miles the sylvan way follows the shore of a cobalt lake with tree-clump islands and bordered by telephone-pole pines and groves of white birch. The sign on the turnoff to the fishing boat launch is a shock: "Compensating Reservoir."

Nearing East Granby the hills disappear and, for newcomers, there is a curious landscape of muslim-shrouded fields. Under these acres of flat topped tents is nurtured some of the country's premium shade-grown tobacco. Used for cigar wrapper and binder tobacco, it is picked leaf by leaf and stored in the big red ventilated barns adjacent to each field.

When the Magic Circle curves south it is over a new superhighway (U. S. Interstate 91) that frames the skyline of Hartford. Rich in Colonial history, Connecticut's largest city prides itself in the dual role of being the state capital and the nation's insurance capital (32 home offices). It also is a pivotal point in New England's Heritage Trail of treasured landmarks.

MINARETS, TURRETS

From the business district acres of immaculate lawn flow up to the amazing capitol, which defies architectural identification. The 1879 castle-like structure is a gray marble and granite maze of detail and sculpturing highlighted by balconies, minarets, con-shaped turrets and nine-foot high statuary of Colonial notables. Panels of gold leaf are joined to form the dome.

Fenced off "temporary" offices detract only slightly from the ornate grandeur of the lobby. The friendly guard told us its style was French Gothic. Actually, it is reminiscent of a Moorish palace with its red and gold inlaid series of balcony arches and mosaic-patterned floors of colored inlaid granite and marble. The west lobby wing is distinguished by panels and skylights of stained glass, the east wing by a fine bronze statue of Nathan Hale.

Families visiting Hartford may go different ways from the capitol. The males will walk across to the State Library, which not only houses the Connecticut Supreme Court, but also the superb Colt Collection of Firearms. Some 440 of the choicest weapons now are on display of the 1,100 donated by the local arms plant. Exhibits that caught our eye included the handsome revolving rifle with cylinder cartridge chambers, the wicked looking 1844 Navy experimental Bowie Knife-Patterson pistol that fired out over the blade, the octagonal shaped, long barreled revolver — one of the first manufactured by Sam Colt in 1835, a .44 caliber Hartford Dragoon with a mahogany handle inlaid with gold and valued at $35,000, and, of course, the famed Colt .44 that "won the West."

ART TREASURES

The womenfolk doubtless will prefer the Wadsworth Atheneum to the guns, for here hours can be spent in a compilation of art treasures housed in five interconnected buildings and 50 galleries. The entry court is dominated by a 1548 fountain statue of Venus with nymph and satyr. Primarily known for its displays from the baroque school, great artists down through the ages are represented. The 1620 box-like cradle from the Wallace Nutting Collection is believed to be the first furniture made in America. There are 365 pieces of Meissen porcelain, mounted knights in armor, tapestries, early American and period furniture.

Other treasures are tucked away in the downtown business district, such as the 1796 Old State House which was designed by Charles Bulfinch. It is an impressive rose-brick edifice with white pillars, and seems to stand alone in the midst of traffic. Now a museum, it overlooks a grassy square where shoppers and pigeons rest in its shade.

Equally serene is the old Gold Street Burying Ground back of the statuesque red brick and white pillared Center Church. Shaded by ancient oaks, red sandstone markers with legible dates back to 1708 angle up from the turf.

The Magic Circle out of Hartford leads west (Conn. 4) past the flamboyant Mark Twain House, resembling a riverboat and built for more than $100,000 with profits from his book "Innocents Abroad." The architect is said to have been driven to the edge of sanity — not by the fancy brick work or the 19 rooms and 18 fireplaces — but by the humorist's insistence on such features as a window over the fireplace, a huge shaded porch to simulate a ship's deck and wheel-house, a pilot house-shaped balcony, and servant's wing facing the street for convenient parade watching. He kept a parrot (which probably swore) in the dirt-floored conservatory, designed for him by neighboring author Harriet Beecher Stowe. His Venetian bed is elaborately carved with angels and cherubs, the latter being removable foot pieces once used as playthings by his children; the basement holds his prized Russian sleigh. In the 30 years he lived here he wrote such books as "Tom Sawyer," "Huckleberry Finn" and "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court."

When you drive into Farmington you have the feeling that time has stood still; that here is a story-book Connecticut Yankee town. Massive oaks shade the lovingly tended old Colonial red, yellow and white homes, each with a spacious lawn and clipped hedge or picket fence. If it wasn't for the beavies of demurely dressed girls for whom traffic is stopped as they walk back and forth across the street, you wouldn't realize that the highway (U. S. 202) goes right through the campus of Miss Porter's School, the alma mater of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

Last stop is in Bristol to see the unique — and free — American Clock and Watch Museum. The 1801 home of Miles Lewis is filled with timepieces, tastefully displayed with proper period furnishings such as a spinet piano. It is not a place of clamorous ticking, for only a few of the old "grandfathers" are running. The oldest specimen in the collection is a 1700 English lantern type with one hand only (you guessed at the minutes), its top resembling a German helmet. The painstakingly carved wooden movements are a marvel, especially the one taken from a church tower — wheels and frame of native cherry, pinion and anchors of boxwood and laurel. Youngsters enjoy the 1908 train clock, its face in place of the engineer's cab.

GOVERNOR'S CAR ON FIRE

SHREWSBURY, Pa. (AP)—Gov. Lawrence had to switch cars near this York County community Tuesday night when the motor in his state car caught fire as he returned to the State Capital from Baltimore.

The governor was returning from Johns Hopkins University, where he had taken his wife Alyce, for treatment of a back ailment.

The governor's chauffeur, State Police Sgt. Leslie Jackson, ushered the chief executive to safety and called a state police vehicle to return them to Harrisburg.

The governor's office said damage to the 1962 model state car was slight.

Mrs. Lawrence remained at Johns Hopkins.

On his return to Harrisburg the governor expressed his gratitude to persons who stopped to render assistance.

Mystery Of Vanished Girl Unsolved After 9 Months

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Say you are the parents of four happy children, living in a pleasant home in a quiet neighborhood. Then one morning you awaken and find your 8-year-old daughter is gone from her bedroom.

There is a frantic search. Days, weeks and months pass and there are only false clues and dead ends.

This happened to Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Burr the morning of Aug. 31, 1961. More than nine months later the case of Ann Marie Burr still is an agonizing mystery.

HEARD CHILD CRY

It was cold and rainy that Aug. 31, Mrs. Burr, 33, awakened shortly after 5:30 a.m. She heard their youngest child, Mary, 3, crying. Mary was bothered by a cast put on her arm after an accident. The other children, Greg, 5, and Julie, 7, were asleep in a basement bedroom.

When Mrs. Burr looked in Ann Marie's bedroom, it was empty.

POLICE CALLED

The Burrs searched every room and closet in the two-story brick home. Then they called police.

There was ample cause for alarm. The front door, locked and latched with a night chain the evening before, was open. A small living room window, closed the night before, also was open. A bench beneath the window was overturned.

Donald and Beverly Burr live now in a tangled web of confusion, sorrow and apprehension—hoping against mounting odds that their blonde, hazel-eyed daughter may be alive. No ransom ever was asked. No ready explanation is available.

POLICE PUZZLED

Tacoma police are just as puzzled.

More than 1,500 persons were questioned in the first 12 days of the search.

Robert J. Drost, detective captain, has a 500-page file on the Ann Marie case on a rack above his desk.

Missing person bulletins have been sent to every state and to Canada and Mexico. When Ann Marie first disappeared, hundreds of searchers combed the city's wooded areas and vacant lots.

OFFER REWARDS

Police made a house-to-house check of the neighborhood. All known child molesters and sex offenders were questioned.

COUNTIES AND STATE AGREE ON WELFARE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Officials of five fourth-class counties were in agreement today that Pennsylvania needs uniform standards for its public assistance and child welfare programs.

Commissioners from Chester, Washington, York, Fayette and Northampton counties expressed the view at a meeting Tuesday with the State-Local Welfare Commission.

The meeting was the second of four the commission has scheduled with county commissioners throughout the state. Ideas presented at the informal conferences will be used to implement testimony received at public hearings the commission held.

UNDER SAME ROOF

Last week the commission met with representatives of third-class counties, who felt they could handle the administrative responsibilities of both programs at the county level.

The third of the current conferences is scheduled for Friday in Pittsburgh. A fourth will be held Monday in Harrisburg.

The officials yesterday agreed Pennsylvania's public assistance and child welfare programs belong under the same administrative roof.

However, the county commissioners were not certain where this roof should be located—at the state or county level.

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—Mary Webb, 16, of Johnstown, drowned Tuesday while swimming with friends at a stone quarry in Somerset County about seven miles east of Ligonier.

FREE TEACHER ON BAIL AFTER GRILLING ON GIRL'S DEATH

TOMS RIVER, N.J. (AP)—Miss Rose Schulman, 52, of Rose Valley, Pa., a drama teacher questioned as a material witness in the slaying of 24-year-old Phyllis Jones, has been released on $2,000 bail.

Police said Miss Schulman, who accompanied the attractive, red-haired Miss Jones to Long Beach Island early Saturday, had returned to New Jersey Tuesday voluntarily. She is not a suspect and was listed as a material witness so she would be readily available for questioning, officers said.

They said Miss Jones had left Miss Schulman to walk to the end of the island. Her body was found in a gravel pit near Whiting Sunday night.

HANDS WERE TIED

The dead woman, of 1930 Berkeley Road, West Norriton Township, Pa., had studied at the Hedgerow Theater dramatic school in Moylan, Pa., two nights a week.

Her body was found clad only in a bathing suit. Her hands were tied behind her with the strap of her halter. She had been struck on the back of the head and on the jaw and nose.

35-MILE TRAIL

Authorities said a second autopsy indicated the blow on the head may not have been the cause of death.

In tracing Miss Jones' movements over the 35 miles between the beach to where the body was found, police pieced together the following account:

Miss Jones and Miss Schulman left the drama school early Saturday morning in Miss Jones' car for a one-day visit to Long Beach Island. They stopped for a 5 a.m. breakfast.

FAILED TO RETURN

Miss Schulman told authorities Miss Jones then said she would take a walk to the end of the island, some 15 miles away. When Miss Jones failed to return, the teacher decided to visit friends, then took a bus back home.

Miss Schulman was questioned by police Monday night and Tuesday morning.

She is well acquainted with the habits and background of Miss Jones, a police official said. "She can be quite helpful."

Miss Jones was reported missing Sunday morning when her car, beach gear and wallet containing $60 were found on the beach.

NO PROGRESS YET

Authorities said Miss Schulman took a voluntary lie detector test.

Two friends, Richard Morgan, an actor at Hedgerow, and Catherine Rieser, formerly associated with the theater, supplied her bail. Later Miss Schulman returned to Moylan with Morgan and Miss Rieser.

Meanwhile, Capt. Calvin Woolley, head of Ocean County detectives, said "we're really nowhere now." He said the investigation would turn to the Moylan area today. "It's a logical place," he said.

PEACH CROP'S OUTLOOK GOOD

HARRISBURG — Recent gains gave a much needed boost to Pennsylvania's fruit and vegetable crops but total soil moisture remains inadequate throughout the Commonwealth.

Most of the state's fruit crop is free of insect and weather damage, the State Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday in its weekly crop and weather roundup.

Prospects are for an excellent peach crop. Orchardists report a heavy set and thinning operations are in full swing. Cherries are coloring well in all major producing areas. Red sour and some of the early sweet variety will be ready for picking the last week in June. Rains aided apple setting and some dropping has occurred in central counties. Grapes are in full bloom in the Erie region.

Vegetable producers report good growth of beets, corn, cucumbers and tomatoes with the assist of last week's rains. Snap beans are progressing well and harvesting will start this week in southern counties. Sweet corn is pushing in most areas. Harvesting peas continues, and asparagus, while still plentiful, has passed the peak period.

The small grain crops look good, but straw is short and lodging is evident in some fields. Barley is heading and beginning to yellow. Wheat is generally headed but oats are still mainly in the preboot stage. Corn is in need of more moisture and warmer weather.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, hoping to bolster their linebacking corps, have obtained Bob Harrison from the San Francisco 49ers in a trade for a future draft choice.

The deal was announced Tuesday by Eagles' General Manager Vince McNally.

Harrison, 6-2, 220-pounder, was an All-American at Oklahoma in 1958. For the past two years he has been the starting middle linebacker for the 49ers.

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP) —Sam Parks Jr., darkhorse winner of the 1962 National Open Golf title at Oakmont with a horrendous 299, figures an even par 284 should do the trick in '62.

Postage Stamp Currency Was Adopted In 1862

This summer marks the centennial of "Postage Stamp Currency" in the U. S.

An article in "Stamps," the weekly magazine of philately, reports that in 1861-1862 the trend of hostilities between North and South was not proceeding according to the hopes of those who had predicted quick victory for the Union cause.

To meet the need for money Congress in the summer of 1861 issued "greenback" notes and then a new series of paper bills called "legal tender notes." The public generally feared that the paper money was subject to depreciation and as a result "hard money" coins were hoarded with the belief that no matter who won the war or what happened, the silver or gold would have value. In the last week of June and first week of July, 1862, over $725,000,000 in silver coins vanished from circulation.

ADOPT SCRIPT

The result was an almost complete lack of any type of coin or money between the one cent coin and the five dollar note. Some cities set up their own script and notes, tokens, street car and ferry tickets and various kinds of coupons were used in various places for money.

F. E. Spinner, treasurer of the United States, without coins to "make change," devised the plan of cutting out small blanks of Treasury paper and pasting thereon various amounts of postage stamps. The general public soon adopted the idea and loose stamps, encased stamps, and marked envelopes with stamps enclosed soon helped ease the situation caused by the lack of coins.

Will Ask For Special Gifts

GROVE CITY, Pa. (AP)—Members of the United Presbyterian Church in Pennsylvania will be asked to set aside 10 per cent of their adjusted gross income for church offerings between Ash Wednesday and Pentecost in 1963.

A resolution to this effect was passed Tuesday at the state's United Presbyterian Synod at Grove City College.

Dr. Dale K. Milligan, pastor of the Beulah Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh, introduced the resolution.

Dr. Milligan said Communism made greater advances than Christian missions because the Communists "have always had money to work with."

He said church members should insure that Christianity has sufficient funds.

In Memoriam D

HEPPER: In loving memory of our dear son, Ronald R. Hepper, who was taken from us four years ago tonight, June 13, 1958. Four years have passed, our hearts still sore, as time flies on, we miss him more.

He was always so patient, loving and kind.

What a beautiful memory he has left behind.

No one knows the silent heart ache.

Only those who have lost can tell Of the grief that is borne in silence.

For the one we loved so well.

His smiling face no more we see.

His gentle footsteps no more we hear.

His willing hands and face so sweet.

In heaven someday we hope to meet.

In the graveyard softly sleeping Where flowers gently wave Lies the one we loved so dearly In the still and silent grave.

We do not know why we must part From those we love so dear But God who doeth all things well Will someday make it clear.

We often sit and think of you As days go passing by And wonder why you had to be Before we could say goodbye.

HIS LOVING MOTHER AND DAD

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

BEAUTY DEVELOPMENTS.

Are you one the alter for cosmetic developments? Unless you make a point of keeping informed, you may miss out on discoveries your loveliness thirsts after.

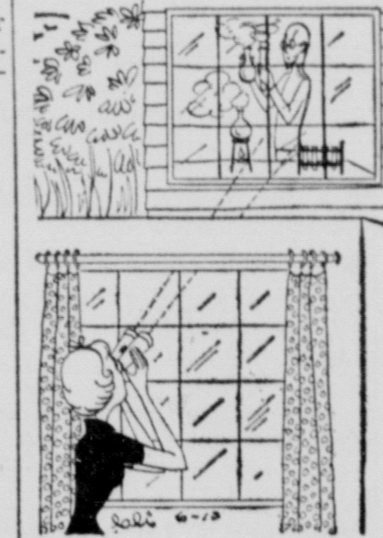

For example, are you in the know about these beautifiers?

• Special formula shampoo for bleached and tinted hair. Its purpose is to help condition and re-body color-treated or abused locks without altering the shade.

• Eye oil in stick form, for lubricating and protecting the delicate tissues around the eyes. As it is spill-proof and purse-sized, it is of special value to travelers and sun worshippers. Do remember, tanning friends, to apply a little eye oil before sunning. Heat shrivels the area.

• Loose powder with medicated and antiseptic properties. Its action helps to improve problem skins and prevent skin problems, too. Yet, as it is tinted to flatter the skin tones, it offers a glamorous cover-girl finish — the sheer look preferred by many models and achieved by loose powder.

• Eyeshadows containing a skin-care emollient. These come in stick, cream and pressed powder types. Their aim is to keep the lids smooth and color-filmed at the same time.

And for those with a real Sherlock bent, there's a clue to up-and-coming cosmetics in organic oils. Such oils as avocado, peanut and wheat germ. The organic products, now available, promise to clean and soften the skin. Interested? Then investigate and keep watch on future developments.

MOST FLATTERING COLORS

In fashion, nothing makes you lovelier than color. It can enhance your skin, hair, eyes and figure; it can express your individuality and style. Great powers, those! To learn how to put them to work for you, read our leaflet, "YOUR MOST FLATTERING COLORS." To obtain a copy, send your request to Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin.

When robins cock their heads searching for worms in the ground, they are looking — not listening. Lacking binocular vision, the birds can see best when a single eye is pointed down.
